Annual Report FY 2020-2021

Immigration Institute of the Bay Area

Serving immigrants and refugees since 1918

In September 2020, IIBA was honored to host civil rights icon Dolores Huerta, the co-founder of the United Farm Workers (UFW) of America and the founder and president of the Dolores Huerta Foundation. We are so grateful to Ms. Huerta for her wisdom, her inspiration, her activism, her humanity, and deep empathy. To be in her presence is to feel inspired and motivated to do all we can to make this world a better place. She is a gift.

“I want to thank you for what you’re doing, and I want to bless you, and I hope that you continue and don’t give up.”

– Dolores Huerta to the IIBA community

Mission

The Immigration Institute of the Bay Area (IIBA) helps immigrants, refugees, and their families join and contribute to the community. IIBA provides high-quality, affordable immigration legal services, education, and civic engagement opportunities.

Vision

We envision diverse communities where immigrants are valued, contributing members with full access to justice and economic opportunity.

Dear Friends,

The past year has challenged us and demonstrated our collective resilience.

In November 2020, we elected a new President and the first female, first African American, and first Asian American Vice President—a result that signaled change on the horizon. On January 6, 2021, however, we witnessed an attack on our capitol and our democracy—a physical manifestation of the polarization we have endured for years.

In summer of 2020, spurred by the murder of George Floyd, we experienced the beginnings of a racial reckoning that, in 2021, has suffered a vicious backlash—a wave of state laws designed to dismantle one of our most precious held rights; the right to vote.

2021 brought us both a vaccine to help prevent the spread and impact of COVID-19, and a seemingly endless parade of new variants of the virus, each with personal, economic, and social disruptions trailing close behind.

In market terms, we have been whipsawed.

Yet at IIBA, one thing has remained constant: our commitment to immigrants. That commitment is born out of a sense of social justice and recognition that immigrants make invaluable contributions to this country.

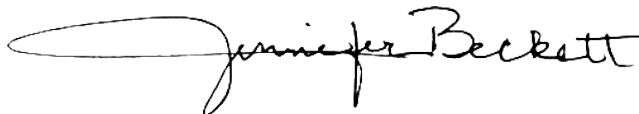

At a time when many are questioning their faith in our democracy, we at IIBA find hope in the immigrants who seek our shores. Through their eyes, we see the value in what so many in our country take for granted. At their naturalization ceremonies, we are reminded that citizenship requires an oath of loyalty not just to this country, but also to a set of ideals and values we hold dear: liberty, equality, justice, opportunity. Every day we see the best of who we are as a nation reflected in the lives of those who have worked so hard to become U.S. citizens.

Our ability to continue to work with immigrants, to help them on a path to a more secure future, has brought us sustenance, meaning, and hope.

This annual report is our ode to the clients we serve, our thank you note for the gifts they bring to our country, our communities, and our lives. We hope you too will find inspiration here.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

IIBA Provides Legal Services at Bay Area Community Colleges

Despite the ongoing challenges of the pandemic, IIBA conducted outreach to a total of 2,318 students and allies on 5 campuses and conducted 748 legal consultations as well as other immigration legal services. At IIBA we are committed to ensuring that community members—including students, their family members, and college staff—can understand and access the legal remedies available to them, with the support of our legal team.

IIBA provides free immigration legal services to students, faculty, and staff at five community colleges in Contra Costa, San Francisco, San Mateo, and Santa Clara County, thanks to funding from the California Department of Social Services (CDSS).

IIBA's Pro Bono Partnerships Make a Difference

IIBA and our wonderful pro bono partners held 19 remote pro bono workshops, helping over 270 clients. Thanks to these invaluable partnerships, more individuals are on a path to United States citizenship and more young immigrants are pursuing their educational and career goals. Here are their stories.

"With DACA, I have found a job that I really love. I work as a nursing assistant in a hospital, and I am currently pursuing my degree in health science. My hope for the future is to get my degree and continue pursuing my career in the medical field."
—Nancy

"I am becoming a U.S. citizen because I want to vote. I am very excited about voting, and for the work opportunities being a U.S. citizen will bring."
—Jean

"I came to the U.S. 14 years ago from Mexico, and I am now a licensed therapist working for San Mateo County. I really appreciate all the opportunities this country has given to me, and can't wait to become a United States citizen."
—Fernando

Celebrating Our Clients

COMMUNITY COLLEGE STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Tanya, a student at Diablo Valley College, pursues her dreams with the help of IIBA's legal team.

"I am very grateful to IIBA because they helped me renew my DACA and they fully covered the $495 application fee. The fee would have been a huge obstacle in renewing my DACA."

How has DACA impacted your life?

"DACA has changed my life significantly. I have lived in the United States since I was a baby. DACA helped me go to college and to find work. I currently work at Planned Parenthood, and I recently transferred to CSU East Bay to finish my Bachelor's in Psychology. I hope to one day be a therapist, because I know how important therapy is for our communities and I want to be able to help people."

A Path Forward

Bernardo and Alma immigrated to the United States from Mexico two decades ago, in search of a better life. They settled in Sonoma County, where their three children were born and raised.

Bernardo and Alma's dream of becoming citizens was hindered by the cost of hiring a private immigration attorney.

With the help of IIBA's nonprofit legal team, they are now green card holders, and are on the path to United States citizenship.

"We are very grateful to IIBA. Our attorney was always available to answer any questions we had and to give us reliable information," Alma said.

"During the pandemic, even though a lot of places closed down, we were still able to move forward with our immigration process thanks to IIBA being able to serve us remotely. Now, we feel more secure and have more stability as permanent residents."

"SVCF is proud to support IIBA as it provides newcomers to the U.S. the ability to navigate a maze of complex immigration laws that govern the most fundamental aspects of their lives.

IIBA's free and low-cost immigration legal services enable low-income immigrants to obtain the legal status that leads to better jobs, family unification, stability, and fuller participation in community life—all of which are building blocks for strong communities and healthy societies."

IIBA's Two-Year Strategic Plan is Ambitious

IIBA's two-year strategic plan positions IIBA to play a critical role in Northern California's immigration legal landscape. Below is a snapshot of just two of IIBA's objectives and first-year achievements:

OBJECTIVE

Bolster outreach to underserved communities, including Black and Indigenous immigrants

ACHIEVEMENTS

- We served clients from 13 African countries and two Afro-Caribbean countries: Cameroon, Egypt, Ethiopia, Ghana, Kenya, Liberia, Morocco, Mozambique, Nigeria, Senegal, Sudan, Tog, Tunisia; Haiti and Jamaica.
- We reached out to our partners to receive referrals for Indigenous clients from Guatemala and Mexico, and connected with Interpreter Service Providers for their Indigenous languages.

OBJECTIVE

Leverage key lessons gleaned from working remotely to improve workflow and serve clients beyond IIBA's brick and mortar locations

ACHIEVEMENT

- We served clients from the following counties: Amador, Fresno, Humboldt, Lake, Madera, Marin, Merced, Monterey, Placer, Sacramento, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Solano, Stanislaus, Tulare, Yolo.

A Family Reunited

In 2016, IIBA client Eduardo joined thousands of others who were sworn in as new citizens at the Paramount Theater in Oakland. It was a life changing experience.

“I remember sitting next to an older woman during the ceremony, and when we received our certificates, we both started crying,” Eduardo said. “She smiled at me and said ‘We did it. We did it.’ It was a special moment.”

Over twenty years ago, Eduardo’s began working as a janitor for The Doctors Company in Napa County. Today, Eduardo continues to work at the Doctors Company, but with a different title: Senior Infrastructure Engineer. His interest in computers was sparked by conversations he had during his janitorial shifts with colleagues in the IT department. Inspired, Eduardo enrolled in school to earn his certification in Information Technology. Those initial conversations launched a 20-year career in IT.

After becoming a citizen, Eduardo routinely traveled to Mexico to care for his mother. That is when he met Katia and her two children. After two years in a long distance relationship, the couple decided to marry.

IIBA’s Legal Team began the process of filing petitions for Katia and the children to join Eduardo in the U.S. When Katia became pregnant with twins, the urgency to be reunited as a family grew.

Eduardo and Katia needed to schedule the birth of the twins in Mexico. They chose July 4th.

Four months after the twins were born, Katia and the children’s visas were approved. The entire family was able to immigrate to the U.S.

“Thanks to IIBA, our family is together again. I didn’t have to pay expensive legal fees, which was a major help to our family,” Eduardo said. “It means a lot to know that other families in the community who might be struggling can seek out IIBA for help.”

“We wanted to make their birthday special, and it was a way to say thank you to the U.S. for giving our family a better future.”

Fikpee Never Gave Up

You might recognize Fikpee from the postcard you received from IIBA in November. Read her full story here!

Fikpee has always been determined to help others, a value her mother instilled in her when she was a young girl in Liberia. When Fikpee was granted asylum in the United States, she began working in hospice care as a home health aide in the Bay Area. She also co-founded Oakland's Dehcontee Liberian Dance Company.

Throughout her life, dancing helped center her and kept her strong, and she wanted to give back to her new community through dance.

—Fikpee

Fikpee worked with IIBA's legal team to prepare for the citizenship interview, and she passed the test with ease.

It was dance, after all, that first brought her to the United States. As a member of her high school dance company, she traveled to the Bay Area for an international dance performance in the 1970s.

In the 1980s, Liberia's political situation became dire. Fikpee knew she would need to make it to the United States if she and her family would have a chance of survival.

Once in the United States, she worked tirelessly to send money to family back in Liberia. In addition to working as a hospice care home health aide, she started her own hair braiding business in Oakland to make ends meet.

When Fikpee first came to IIBA, she had lost her permanent resident paperwork in the shuffle of moving between apartments, and she was terrified of what this would mean for her future in the United States.

IIBA's legal team helped remedy the situation, and positioned her to take the next step in applying for United States citizenship. Fikpee worked with IIBA's legal team to prepare for the citizenship interview, and she passed the test with ease.

“IIBA gave me the confidence to not be afraid anymore,” Fikpee said, “and helped get me to where I am today, a United States citizen.”

When Fikpee was granted asylum in the United States, she began working in hospice care as a home health aide in the Bay Area. She also co-founded Oakland's Dehcontee Liberian Dance Company.

Celebrating Our Volunteers

Charles Huse
Pro Bono Volunteer and Mentor

After regularly volunteering at IIBA's citizenship workshops, Charles quickly rose to become one of our first pro bono mentors, providing expert guidance to newer volunteers. Charles' commitment to assisting citizenship applicants is unwavering.

What do you enjoy most about volunteering?

There's a human-interest angle to the work that's largely absent from my day job as a patent prosecutor. I enjoy hearing people's stories, and helping them figure out how to reflect those stories in the paperwork.

I've been working in Silicon Valley for about 25 years now. The Valley's success owes a lot to immigrants and the contributions they have made here. Given those contributions, I find pro bono work helping immigrants to be particularly rewarding.

Why should others support IIBA?

IIBA does great work helping immigrants at a time when too many people don't appreciate the role immigrants play in our society.

Ana Canenguez
Dedicated IIBA Volunteer

Ana volunteers with IIBA's pro bono team. She works with IIBA's DACA Clients and Naturalization Clients, helping them gather the myriad documents they will need to complete their applications. She also volunteers as a translator for IIBA Workshops.

Why do you volunteer with IIBA?

Volunteering with IIBA has been such a rewarding experience. I get to “Ana has been a tremendous help to us in our pro bono programming. She has been a great support and contact for our DACA and naturalization clients. She goes above and beyond. We at IIBA are very grateful to have her volunteer support.”

– Margaret Martin, Pro Bono Director

work with people that I see myself in. I am an immigrant myself. I know how difficult the immigration process is, and I know how hard it is to navigate the process without professional help.

Being able to help my community by volunteering with IIBA has meant so much to me.

Why would you encourage others to volunteer with IIBA?

It is a great opportunity to learn more about the immigration field and what it means to work for a nonprofit organization. You get to work with amazing professionals who are very experienced and can teach you so much. If you have an interest in nonprofits, immigration law, and helping your community, it is an incredible opportunity.

Celebrating Our Donors

Sandra Moreno made a gift of $10,000 to IIBA in 2021. She has an art degree from Chico State and works as an executive assistant at the Chan Zuckerberg Institute. She lives in the Bay Area with her family

“The fear of deportation never leaves you. When I finally became a U.S citizen, I was so relieved.”

—Sandra Moreno

In my own family's experience, quality legal advice is so important to assuage fears and gain a sense of security, especially as U.S. immigration laws become more complex.

My family is from the town of Coalcomán in Michoacan, Mexico. When I was five years old, my parents, older sister, and I made the journey to the U.S. My father bought a jar of peanut butter and a loaf of bread for $20, which sustained us for the week-long trek.

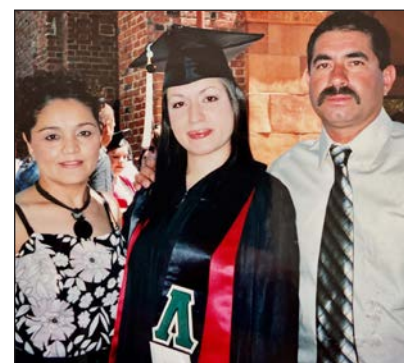

Each night, my parents wrapped my sister and me in a San Marcos blanket while they kept themselves warm by burrowing in the sand. That San Marcos blanket survived all these years and is a family heirloom.

Our first years in the U.S. were very hard. Soon after we arrived in Corning, CA, my dad had an accident working in the olive orchards and couldn't walk. We were homeless until my uncle joined us. While my mom and uncle worked sorting walnuts, my sister and I cared for our dad.

We eventually gained some stability and even legal status, with the help of many in our community – quality legal advice was critical. It took years for my parents to obtain a green card and finally citizenship. We even had to make a weekend trip to Tijuana, so my parents could have a civil ceremony to have their marriage recognized! My parents attended

“When I was five years old, my parents, older sister, and I made the journey to the U.S.”

“I became a U.S. citizen after graduating college.”

citizenship classes at the local high school and studied together in the evenings.

I became a U.S. citizen after graduating college. I was so nervous when I reported to USCIS. The fear of deportation never leaves you. When I finally became a U.S citizen, I was so relieved.

A few years ago, I found IIBA to refer to other immigrants who needed help with their immigration status. I donated, and I encourage others to donate to IIBA.

IIBA's Sixth Annual (Virtual)

Comedy Night for Immigrant Rights

Thanks to all of our Event Sponsors and to everyone who purchased tickets and donated during the event.

Thank you to the comedians, Margaret Cho, Bassem Youssef, Naomi Ekperigin, and Francesca Fiorentini, who made us laugh, an unimaginable gift during these times.

Last but not least, thank you to Duckhorn Portfolio for hosting the Virtual VIP Wine Tasting.
